PSC Puts Off Depot Hearing For Waveland

Hearing on discontinuance of services of an agent at Waveland railroad depot, originally scheduled for Tuesday before the Mississippi Public Service Commission, has been postponed and probably will be in March, Waveland Mayor Garfield Lader said today.

Louisville and Nashville Railroad is attempting to remove the agent from the depot on the grounds that revenue does not warrant an agent's services. A protest against the discontinuance and request for delay of the hearing were sent by Mayor Lader to the MPSC.

Mayor Lader said estimated total revenue to the depot from cargo shipped from and to Waveland during 1958 was $35,000. The figure for Ansley and Lakeshore, whose revenues are credited to the Waveland depot, was $25,000.

Statements of need of the depot agent's services, which Mayor Lader will present at the hearing, showing amount of cargo shipped or received by local businesses during 1958, claim that:

Sam Whitfield shipped 373 cars of wood from Lakeshore during 1958 with an average freight of $60 a car, all of which was handled by the Waveland agent.

J. H. Burnham of Richton Tie and Timber Co. shipped 45 cars of wood from Lakeshore and 22 cars of wood from Waveland.

R. F. Mestayer Lumber Co. received 33 carloads of merchandise at Waveland.

D. E. Wilcox received four carloads of appliances at Waveland.

Town of Waveland received 14 cars of paving material besides 25 to 30 cars which must have come to Waveland, Mayor Lader said, when the gas pipe line was put through Hancock County.

No Decision Is Likely For Several Weeks On Commuter Trains

Final decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission on discontinuance of two Gulf Coast commuter trains appears unlikely for at least six weeks and possibly for three months.

But, the ICC is under mandate to decide before May 2 whether the Louisville and Nashville Railroad may discontinue commuter trains Nos. 9 and 12 between Ocean Springs and New Orleans.

This was pointed out by Hyman J. Blond, ICC examiner who conducted a four-day hearing on the issue last week at New Orleans.

The damaging effect discontinuance of the trains would have on Hancock County commuters was outlined by a parade of citizens and commuters in Friday's final session of the hearing.

Friday, Rudolph Vorbusch of Waveland and New Orleans, attorney and president of Gulf Coast Commuters Association, presented his case against the discontinuance. L and N pleadings in favor of the move were Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The commuters' case began with questioning of W. E. Moore of McComb, public service commissioner of the south district. He pleaded that coastal citizens had built homes in the area with the assumption the commuter trains would be continued.

W. E. Jacobs of Gulfport, district inspector of Mississippi State Highway Safety Patrol, spoke of the hazards on US-90, especially between Bay St. Louis and New Orleans.

Indignation against the proposed railroad move was registered by Walter Rausch of Bay St. Louis. Referring to the L and N counsel, Clifford T. Coomes of Louisville, the witness said, "Mr. Coomes' elegant manner gives the impression of a Mickey Mantle with two or three Hank Bauers, while we are the sandlot players playing against professionals. Why use such a battery of legal talent?" Mr. Rausch asked, "In a case where the loss is only three hundredths of one per cent of the total, unless the decision in this case is to be used in other future similar cases?"

A. G. Dantagnan, Bay St. Louis realtor, said he had noted more property for sale since Jan. 1 than at any time since he had been in the real estate business, indicating fear by owners that train service for commuters might be halted.

Mayor John A. Scalfie was prevented by objections of L and N counsel from discussing meetings between high railroad officials and Mr. Scalfie and other coastal mayors.

The examiner also sustained the objection of the railroad to discussion of lack of adequate crossing protection within city limits.

Claude Dudley Andrey, executive director of Metropolitan New Orleans Safety Council, had read into the record a letter describing the dangerous condition of the Louisiana section of US-90.

Other commuters voicing opposition to the discontinuance included George Edmond Hill of Clermont Harbor, seaman; C. Y. Roberts, intervener for the commuters and solicitor for the ICC; Macrinio R. Treillis of Waveland; Maurice J. Aragues of Bay St. Louis; W. R. Pitcairn, G. S. Kennedy, Samuel Ballard and Charles Ferry.

Mr. Blond also agreed to swear in two groups of commuters en masse in order that their names and opposition to the discontinuance might go on the record.

Local opposition included comment by Sheriff Sylvan J. Lader who testified that as sheriff and tax collector he had heard many protests from home owners in regard to the proposed discontinuance.

Other local testimony was from Waveland Mayor Garfield Lader, W. J. Scrimshaw and Russell Elliott.

Others questioned Friday by Mr. Vorbusch were George Sauter of Jackson, in charge of accident records of Mississippi State Highway Safety Patrol; W. J. Creelink Jr. of Jackson, manager of Mississippi Traffic (Please Turn to Back Page)

PROPOSED NEW HANCOCK COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH BUILDING

ending Completion of New Center

Health Office Will Move Temporarily

Hancock County Department of Public Health will relocate temporarily in offices at 123 Hull Ave. until completion of a proposed $17,000 public health center which has been designed by the New Orleans architectural firm of Oubre and Wagner.

The temporary location, in the building formerly used by Dr. A. P. Smith, will be open Wednesday, Dr. James T. Maddux Jr. of the health department told Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday.

Architect Fred Wagner said the design for the new health center provided for three clinic rooms, three offices, an x-ray room and darkroom, lavatory facilities and a large central waiting room. It will be at Second and Union Sts.

Construction of the health center will be delayed until completion of preliminary cost estimates by the same architectural firm on proposed expansion of Hancock County Courthouse.

Both building projects will be included in one bond issue. Posting of intention to build will be after the supervisors have studied the cost estimates and preliminary plans for the courthouse expansion have been completed.

The health department is making the temporary relocation in order that the space now used by the department in the city hall may be used to ease overcrowding of city administrative facilities.

Marion Parker and Mr. Jordan of the Forestry Commission received permission of the supervisors to begin reforestation of 16th section timberlands, proceeds from which are used by the school system. A small state appropriation and county 16th section principal funds will be used.

Mr. Jordan said a statute does allow for the cancellation of leases on the 16th section when the lessee has not been using the property for agricultural purposes.

Camellia Show Awards Given To Residents

Four local residents won awards in the Camellia Show sponsored by the Men's Camellia Club of Gulfport last weekend.

Dr. Walter C. Hove of Waveland won the sweepstakes award in horticulture for the entire show. He also won awards for best specimen in show, best variety bloom and best miniature bloom. He received four handsome silver trophies.

Mrs. P. E. Porter Sr. took the coveted sweepstakes award in arrangements. Her winning entry of Purple Dawn camellias and Ivy was placed in an antique urn of white china painted with dainty pale pink roses and trimmed in gold and green. She received a silver double vegetable dish.

Mrs. Dan M. Russell was runner-up in the arrangements. Her entry was in the "entrance hall" class. She used an antique white perfume bottle and two white silk fans as a setting for the flowers. Placed in the bottle were Winnie Womack camellias, pussy-willow foliage and pink croton leaves. Her prize was a silver trophy.

A blue ribbon was presented to Mrs. Paul M. Miller in the "shells and coral with camellias" class. Mrs. Miller also won a third place in the arrangements division.

Friday Night March Caps Dimes Drive

"Please turn on your porch lights tomorrow night if you would like to make a contribution to the March of Dimes," Mrs. Theo Tudury, Hancock County chairman, requested today.

The march will be from 7 to 8 p.m. Friday, Mrs. Dan M. Russell is general chairman and asked that volunteers who will make collections to return to her home at 112 deMontluzin Ave. where a committee will count the contributions.

The annual drive is nationwide. Proceeds are used locally to assist persons needing help and nationally for research in poliomyelitis, arthritis, birth defects and other crippling diseases.

The Mothers' March comes as a climax to a month-long March of Dimes drive.

Two Schools Name Top Homemakers

Two local high school coeds, Leana Joan Strong of Bay High School and Mary Katherine Garst of St. Joseph Academy, both seniors, were named 1959 Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow after recent 50-minute written examinations on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by all graduating senior girls in their schools.

Both girls will receive a homemaker pin bearing the slogan, "Home is Where the Heart Is". The examinations of both girls will be entered in the state contest.

Each state Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills and a six-day educational trip to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., New York City and Minneapolis, Minn. She also will be entered in the national contest. Scholarship of the national winner will be $5,000.

Nearly 1,000 Get Diphtheria Shots

Dr. J. T. Maddux, director of the Hancock County Health Department, has announced that almost 1,000 diphtheria shots have been given to children less than twelve years of age during the last three weeks. Of these, 740 were given in the local office and 198 by sisters of the Church of the Annunciation at Kiln.

Previous monthly average of diphtheria immunizations given was about 50.

Dr. Maddux again has urged all parents of children who are less than 12 and who have not been immunized within the last two years to obtain this protection for their children.

Forest Necaise, Leroy Williams and James Bagade were ordained deacons of the Baptist Church in ceremonies in Lakeshore Baptist Church at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. Richmond H. Crawley, pastor, conducted the services. Joe Cole, music director for First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis, was in charge of music for the ceremony. He was assisted by Mrs. Clara Ketchum, organist.

The Rev. Franklin Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis, was elected secretary of the ordination council which met prior to the ceremony to discuss the qualifications of the candidates.

Other members of the council were A. H. Gregory, Bay St.

Louis; I. G. Williams, Clermont Harbor; E. B. Thames, Gulfport; Ed Switzer, Gulfport; W. C. Bryant, Gulfport, all of whom are ordained deacons, and these clergymen: the Rev. J. W. Brister, Long Beach; the Rev. O. B. Anderson, Long Beach; the Rev. Mr. Atkinson; the Rev. Mr. Crawley; the Rev. J. D. Aycock, Gulfport; and the Rev. C. O. Estes, Mississippi City.

The ordination sermon was given by the Rev. Mr. Atkinson. The Rev. Mr. Aycock led the ordination prayer and the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Anderson, superintendent of missions of the Gulf Coast Baptist Association.

A fellowship hour was after the services.

Heart Fund Drive Slated In February

The Hancock County Heart Fund drive is all set up and ready for its kickoff Monday. The drive will continue during February, with a 1959 goal of $1,200 for the county.

Mrs. C. R. Beyer again will serve as chairman. Mrs. K. T. Breland will be in charge of the Waveland division, and Mrs. C. E. Becker will handle Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore.

Much interest has been shown in the drive, Mrs. Beyer said, particularly as there has been such an increase in heart diseases nationally as well as in this county. Statistics for 1958 showed 125,000 cases of heart disease in Mississippi, with 6,000 of these being children.

Mrs. Beyer has urged generous contributions so medical science can find the answers to diseases which claim the lives of so many Americans.

Carnival Ball Plans Finished

Young and old persons alike will delight in the fairyland setting which will provide a magnificent court scene as the 1959 rulers of St. Joseph's Parents' Club Carnival Ball enter the ballroom.

The quaint and beloved theme, "Cinderella," has been chosen for the ball and a spectacular tableau will begin at 9 p.m. to open the festivities.

Rumor is running rampant as to identities of their majesties. This well guarded secret will not be learned until the queen and king are presented after the tableau.

Mrs. Lawrence Jacobi, president of the Parents' Club, reports that final plans for the important event have been completed. She said tickets are being sold quickly this year and reminded persons planning to attend the ball to buy them early. All seats are reserved and no tickets will be sold the night of the ball.

Final meeting of the Parents' Club before the Carnival Ball will be at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday in the academy cafeteria.

Seal Is on Committee

Leo Seal Jr. was elected to a committee on constitution and by-laws at an organizational meeting of Mississippi State University "M" Club Alumni Association Jan. 21 at Jackson.

Death Is Attributed To Natural Causes

John Badon, Negro preacher, died while walking by the side of Catahoula Rd., Catahoula, at 1 a.m. Monday.

Chief Sheriff's Deputy Carl Garcia said Badon had lost a tire from the truck he was driving and was walking by a woods at the side of the road when he died. The body was taken from Cook funeral home at Picayune to Britton funeral home at Columbus, where services were held.

Coroner Emile Piazza headed a coroner's jury which attributed death to natural causes. Deputy Garcia was bailiff. Jurors were Clifton Abram, Willie Suthers, John Watts, Willie Mae Watts, James Necaise and Herbert Shiny.

Six-Point Buck Killed By Truck on US-90

A six-point buck was struck and killed at about 11 Saturday night by a large van truck, State Game Warden Randolph Bourgeois said.

The deer, which apparently had wandered from Devil's Swamp, was hit on US-90 between 410 N. Beach St. and Still Point. Mr. Bourgeois said the animal would be donated to an institution by the state game supervisor.

Don McCulloch Describes Flight of Crippled Plane

"I was reading a book and I finished it. There was nothing else to do," Don McCulloch of 410 N. Beach St. said when questioned after flying in the Braniff Airways plane which circled the field at Moltan Airport New Orleans, Tuesday night for 1 1/2 hours because of a defective landing gear.

The pilot and crew were wonderfully calm and they kept us from being frightened by explaining just what was happening. We were prepared for a possible crash landing but actually the pilot made a beautiful landing," Mr. McCulloch said.

Mr. McCulloch, director of publicity, advertising and safety for the Mississippi Power Co., was headed Tuesday night for Oklahoma City, where he presented an original lecture Wednesday, under the sponsorship of the Freedom Forum.

Although the flight trouble Tuesday night slowed connections, he still arrived in time for the lecture, which he hopes to present later to local groups.

Subject matter of Mr. McCulloch's lecture was compiled from case histories of American prisoners of the Korean War, made by the U. S. Army. The report made by the Army is an effort to determine why so many Americans were taken prisoners by the enemy, why so few of them effected escapes and why the Communists were so successful in brainwashing so many of the prisoners.

The Freedom Forum, a national organization sponsored by major American industries, meets every April at Searcy, Ark. Mr. McCulloch's talk at Oklahoma City was made at the request of large groups there who won't attend the meeting.

Our New American Flag

Neither the designers of the flag of the young United States of America nor the Continental Congress which ordained it in 1777 foresaw the ultimate significance of the fields of stars in the canton of blue.

The circle of 13 stars, complementing the 13 stripes of the flag, made an ideal arrangement of symbols signifying the union of the 13 colonies which had become 13 members of the new United States.

Perhaps it was little considered in 1797 that there might be more states in the Union, let alone more stars in the flag. The new nation reached from Maine (then a province of Massachusetts) to the southern border of Georgia. The western lands, extending to the remote Mississippi River, were all claimed by existing states. Vermont, not yet a state, was viewing itself as an independent republic or, by some, as a separate British province, while New York also laid claim to it.

Ten years later, when the Northwest Territory was being set up by Congress, Thomas Jefferson proposed its division into 10 territories which might eventually seek statehood (if any of them ever attained 20,000 inhabitants). These territories, he proposed, were to have such horrendous names as Pelisipia, Chetsosuesus and Assenisipia, although one was to be called Washington.

It was not until 1791 that the number of states was increased to 14 with the addition of Vermont, followed a year later by Kentucky. Then someone got the idea of adding two stars and two stripes to the flag.

It was this 15-star, 15-stripe flag that was carried into the War of 1812 and about which Francis Scott Key wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner." That flag was really out of date, for by 1812 there were 17 states. Tennessee having been added in 1796 and Ohio in 1803.

Ohio never went through the thrill of seeing a star added to the flag just for it. It was not until 1818, when there were 20 states (newcomers being Louisiana, Indiana and Mississippi) that Congress reduced the number of stripes to the original 13 and brought the stars up to date—four horizontal rows of five stars each.

By the time of the Mexican War (1846), there were 29 stars in the flag; by the eve of the Civil War 33. Admission of Kansas in 1861 made it 34 and West Virginia in 1863 raised it to 35.

And thus, one by one, the number grew until 1912 when New Mexico and Arizona were added to make the constellation 48. For the last 47 years, the flag has displayed its stars in six rows of eight stars each.

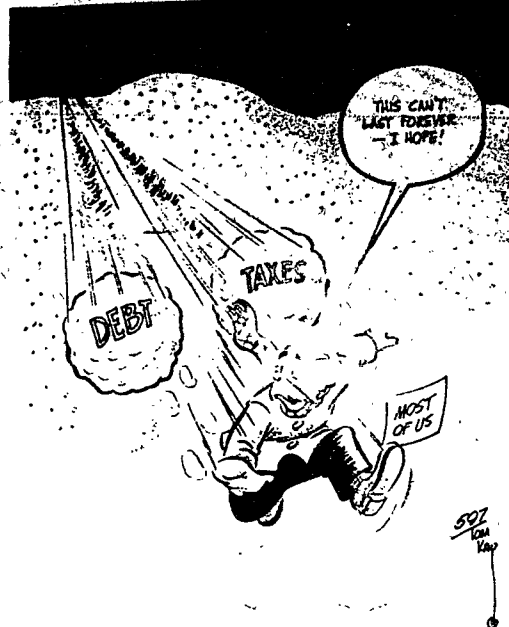

The addition of Alaska to the Union will raise the number of stars to 49, beginning next July 4. President Eisenhower, acting on the recommendations of an advisory committee, has announced the design of the new flag. The stars are to be in seven rows of seven stars each, the rows staggered for better spacing.

The first, third, fifth and seventh rows start at the outside edge of the blue field. The second, fourth and sixth rows are slightly indented at the outer edge and protrude for an equally slight distance toward the inside edge of the field.

An eighth star could be added to any row to make 50, if Hawaii is admitted to statehood, but perhaps would be added to the middle row for symmetry.

This is not the first time the stars in the flag have been in uneven rows. There were staggered rows on several occasions prior to 1912.

As the newest flag ripples in the breeze, it will be scarcely discernible that the design has been changed, but Alaskans, and all of us, will know that it carries a star for every state, projecting the original flag far beyond the dreams of its designers, yet preserving the meaning and the beauty of Old Glory—a banner of union extending from the Arctic to the Caribbean, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and perhaps ere long, into the mid-Pacific.—Columbus (Ohio) State Journal

Relentless Pursuers

Forest Fires Rise Sharply in State

Forest fire occurrence rose alarmingly during the first three weeks of January, Fire Control Director Jarmon Smith of the Mississippi Forestry Commission said.

"The number of January fires amounts to two-thirds the total for the previous six months, he added.

In the six-month period July 1 through Dec. 31, 1958, a total of 1,736 fires burned 14,365 acres. In the first three weeks of January, 1,035 fires burned 14,040 acres, Mr. Smith said.

"Part of this increase comes from additional counties having fire protection since Jan. 1, but the greatest increase results from carelessness and intentionally set fires," Mr. Smith said.

My Favorite Prayer

BY A. C. ASHFORTH
President, the Toronto-Dominion Bank

Oh, Lord, be my shepherd that I shall not want.

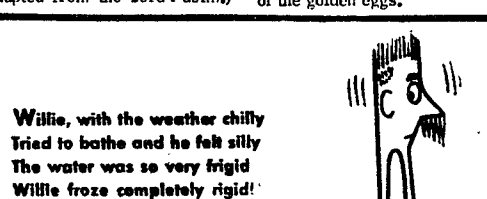

Make me to lie down in green pastures; lead me beside the still waters.

Restore my soul; lead me in the paths of righteousness for Thy name's sake.

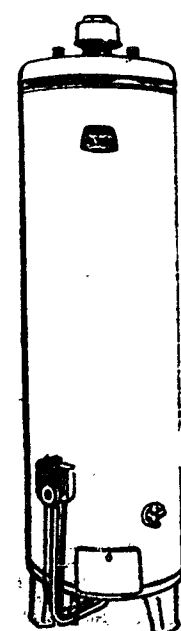

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, if Thou art with me; and Thy rod and Thy staff do comfort me.

Prepare a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; anoint my head with oil so that my cup runneth over.

Then, surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the House of the Lord for ever. (Adapted from the 23rd Psalm.)

Congressional Sidelights

By Rep. WILLIAM M. COLMER

Communism cannot conquer this nation, inflation can.

The preservation of a strong economy in any country requires a constant vigilance on the part of the people against inflation. In our time we have seen the ravages of this economic disease in many countries throughout the world. It is now eating at the vitals of many nations. It has gained a foothold in this country, and unless it is checked it could become the economic cancer that disastrously softens us. Thus, we could become fair game for the Communists. We have watched a number of countries that permitted inflation to go unchecked. In every instance an economic revolution took place, and the result was a change in the form of government. Under the circumstances, we should at least recognize the fact that, unless we are willing to meet the challenge of inflation, we, too, are running the risk of losing our form of government as we have known it. In fact, Lenin himself said that the way to conquer us was by making us spend ourselves into bankruptcy. This is not intended to be an alarmist statement, but it is simply for the purpose of facing up to the facts.

We heard our own President, in his recent State of the Union message, speak of a balanced federal budget. This remark resulted in extended applause, as it should have. Everyone is for a balanced budget, but somehow it never seems to get balanced. We are all for economy for the other fellow, but when the ax threatens to fall close to home, we rationalize and easily convince ourselves that this is not economy, this is short-sightedness.

The citizens of that doughty little republic are keen for the 44-hour week. Why then did they vote against it? Simply because they felt that most of the Swiss industries could not increase their production fast enough to compensate for the increased labor cost. They realized that this would have meant inflation accompanied by higher living costs.

Smart people, those Swiss! Two million of Switzerland's 5 million population are employed in manufacturing. Higher prices for Swiss products would have cut export sales, and those export sales in large part account for the high standard of living which the Swiss people enjoy, which incidentally is almost as high as our own.

Perhaps the outstanding thing about this Swiss rejection of the proposed shorter work week was that even the labor unions opposed the proposal. This columnist has the temerity to suggest that quite a number of our American union labor leaders would do well to emulate the splendid example set by their confreres in Switzerland. Swiss labor leaders are averse to killing the golden goose—our American labor leaders (some of them) seem to be hell-bent on slaying the source of the golden eggs.

Prizes will be awarded for best costumes although costuming is optional. Johnny Vance's band has been chosen. Donation is $3 a couple.

That is human nature and is understandable, but it explains why the public debt now stands at 282 billion dollars, why the interest on the public debt in 1958 was 7 billion $62-million dollars. Yes, the interest on the national debt is now twice as much as it took to run the entire federal government 30 years ago. It also explains why taxes are so high, for taxes can be cut only when government spending is cut first. Further, it explains in a very large measure why inflation continues to be such a threat. There are, of course, other contributing factors, but one of the greatest causes of inflation is unquestionably continued deficit spending by the government. Carried on long enough, it is bound to destroy the economy of the country, and when that happens, our whole way of life will disappear, too.

The question that we must face up to sometime is, "What are we willing to do about it?" On the answer hangs our fate as a nation.

Home Agent Notes . . .

Food Costs Vary

Are any members of your family from 10 to 20 years old? If you answer "yes," you may have one reason for a higher grocery bill than your neighbor with younger children.

Food economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimate it costs $4.50 a week to feed a 3-year-old boy compared to $11.50 for a 16-year-old boy and $8.50 for a 75-year-old man. These figures are based on a moderate cost food plan and food prices in August, 1958. They are for home meals, not "eating out."

The cost of feeding children at any age less than 12 years is the same for boys and girls.

When they are older than 12, boys and men need more food than girls and women of the same age. It costs about a third more to feed a 16-year-old boy, on the average, than to feed a girl of the same age. Next to the teen-age boy, a man of 35 to 54 years averages highest in the cost of his food.

As a general rule, food economists say food costs increase with age up to 20, then decrease. As you plan your food budget, consider the ages of the persons in the family as well as the number.

More Light Possible

Here are five ways to get more light from your lamps:

1 - Check the bulbs. Have bulb snatchers been at work and left some of the sockets empty? Be sure you have at least 150 watts in each reading lamp. Use white bulbs for eye work; try tinted bulbs for decorative effect only.

2 - Have your lamps in the right place. A lamp two feet away gives only a fourth as much light as a lamp one foot away. Proper placement gives best spread of light plus visual comfort for the user and others in the room.

3 - Check the shades. Are they white inside? Are they right size, shape, height and texture to keep light out of your eyes and put it where you want it? Shades provide light control as well as beauty.

4 - Keep the bulbs and lamps clean. Just a little dust can steal a lot of light from your lamps. To get the full light output that you're paying for, include lamp shades, diffusers and bulbs in your regular dusting.

5 - Shades can be washed. Most fabric shades and many plastic ones can be washed to get the dirt out. Diffusers can, too. Washing is especially helpful with translucent shades. But never put bulbs in water.

10-Cent Dollars

Speaking before the American Bankers Association in convention at Chicago, William A. Burkett, superintendent of banks for the state of California, predicted that we will have a 25-cent dollar in this country before too long "if the federal government does not do something to check inflation."

"If the history of the last 100 years teaches us anything," he said, "it is that inflation is more dangerous to a people than any other thing except war."

We who have lived to see a 50-cent dollar well know that some of us could live to see a quarter-dollar or a dime-dollar, if the government and its people continue to spend beyond their means and keep going deeper into debt.

The French franc that was worth five to a dollar in 1917, and recently revalued, is now worth 493 to the dollar, or five francs to a cent.

Federal Reserve Board Chairman William C. Martin, speaking in Chicago, expressed concern over what he called a break down in confidence abroad in the American dollar.

This was timely warning, for when the economy of a country cracks its other defenses crumble. A sound dollar is as essential to our national strength and security as atom bombs and missiles. The people's savings, their life insurance, their investments, their pensions, all depend upon a shock-proof currency.

The integrity of the American dollar at home and its reputation abroad depend upon economy in governments, federal, state and local. There are but three ways to meet the unpaid bills of government—taxation, inflation or repudiation. An individual or a government that continues to borrow to spend creates an artificial prosperity that leads to insolvency, bankruptcy and chaos.

A nation that piles debt upon debt, refuses to balance its budgets and continues to run in the red, inflates its currency, circulates phoney money, undermines its defense and destroys the security of its citizenship.

We the people, dedicated to the preservation of this Republic, will live within our income or perish. Only a government that conserves can survive. We will save or sink. Only the strong stay free.

A stolen car carrying eight 14-year-old New Orleans youths ran into a ditch and then into a field on US-90 near Pearlington Saturday night, Highway Patrolman William P. Kenny said.

Two of the youths, Robert Pennington and James Ricker, were charged with transporting a stolen car across a state line and taken into custody by an FBI agent from Gulfport. They were to be transferred from the federal jail at Gulfport to Hattiesburg for arraignment.

Patrolmen Kenny and Fred Curren and Justice of the Peace Joe Bennett were called to the scene when the 1957 Chevrolet went out of control and off the highway, Patrolman Kenny said. Within 10 minutes they had discovered the car was stolen. The Mississippi license plates on the car had been exchanged for Louisiana plates.

Six of the youths were not charged and were released to their parents' custody. Patrolman Kenny said they had crossed the state line in another car and left it in Mississippi before getting into the stolen car.

Favre, who was treated in Hancock County Hospital and transferred to Veterans Administration Hospital at Biloxi, suffered a punctured lung and other cuts, a hospital official here said.

Apparently Favre had come to Luchich's house where the two men argued, Favre struck Luchich in the face and Luchich retaliated by stabbing him, Deputy Sheriff Latham Garriga, an investigating officer, said. Other officers investigating were Deputy Raoul Telhard and City Patrolmen Son Capdepon and Julius Webre.

Three thefts were reported during the last week to the sheriff's department, Chief Deputy Carl Garcia, investigating officer, said.

B. T. Monroe of Pearlington reported theft of household goods from his home and Lott P. Fernandez, also of Pearlington, reported theft of household goods and furniture. Both thefts, reported Saturday, probably occurred early Saturday morning, Deputy Garcia said. He investigated the thefts Saturday with Constable Harlan G. Dean.

Cigarettes, chewing gum, cold drinks, beer and money from a juke box and cigarette machine were taken early Sunday morning from Johnnie's Roadside Inn at Santa Rosa on US-11, Deputy Garcia and Deputy Gerald Favre investigated this theft.

Train Decision Unlikely Soon

Planning Division, and L. W. Newman, railroad division superintendent.

By afternoon the examiner showed noticeable impatience with the repetitious quality of the testimony presented by the opposing counsel. Mr. Blond ordered Mr. Vortusch not to present any witnesses who had nothing new to add to the record. "Cumulative evidence is not necessary," he said.

Thursday's session of the hearing was taken up by two witnesses who described costs and losses in operation of the trains.

S. P. Preston, assistant auditor at the Union Passenger Terminal, New Orleans, said the railroad would have saved $46,537.42 for expenses at the terminal alone had the railroad not operated trains Nos. 9 and 12 from Jan. 1 to Aug. 31, 1958.

C. F. Bratton of Louisville, Ky., assistant controller for the railroad, testified that operation of the two trains cost the company $40,024 in 1956, $38,999 in 1957 and $47,925 in the first eight months of last year.

A system-wide deficit of $15,359,765 was claimed by Mr. Bratton during 1957. He said the deficit was computed on
